Mr. John McMahon
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

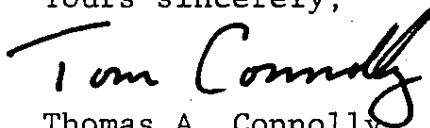

Dear Mr. McMahon:

Last week, I decided to start Stanford University Law School next month. Consequently, I am leaving the staffs of the Intelligence Committee and Senator Biden. Three weeks ago, I was simply doing the good deeds of the Committee and planned to do so for the foreseeable future. However, this opportunity arose, and now I seem to be moving to California on short notice.

I began work on the Intelligence Committee staff in May 1979. Since that time, I have had the good fortune of working with a very large number of inordinately dedicated and talented individuals on the Committee, its staff, and in the intelligence agencies themselves. Further, I have benefited from and thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of CIA officers and their families in approximately fifteen different countries in most degrees of longitude around the world. I would like to thank you very much, as DDCI, for the experience of working with you and these other individuals in the intelligence agencies.

If I can ever be of service to the U.S. intelligence community in any way, I would be happy to do so.

Yours sincerely,

Thomas A. Connolly
